“Makes No Difference Who You Are”

Rabbi Dan Selsberg

I'm writing this as we're still unpacking from our summer holiday. This year held a special bonus: a visit to Disney World (also known as "After Hamilton, the Second Happiest Place on Earth"). There's a lot to say about visiting Disney with a pair of five-year olds, and even more to say about the "wisdom" of going to Florida in August. But one thing that sticks in my mind is the Orlando airport. Amid the usual array of newsstands and fast food joints, there were stores run by the big theme parks in the area: Universal Studios, SeaWorld, and, of course, Mickey Mouse and Friends. Why do they need spots at the airport? Didn't folks buy their souvenirs when they spent hour after hour in the park? Didn't the dozens and dozens of souvenir stands on Disney grounds provide ample opportunity to purchase tzochnies? The answer is no. Sure, some folks bought all they needed. But others forgot. Others thought they'd have a chance to do it later. So not only did they log days trooping around theme parks, but now they want time to spend some more time (and money) holding on to their vacation.

Disney isn't alone in knowing that people work this way. You might have noticed the same trend in the High Holiday season. The Aseret Yamei Teshuvah, the Days of Repentance, are just that. Days and days long. Ten days from Rosh Hashanah to Yom Kippur. Followed quickly by a week of Sukkot and Simchat Torah. One might ask, what gives? Why so many days of repentance—can't I just say I'm sorry and go? If I apologized to those I wronged during Elul, the month before Rosh Hashanah, then why do I need two days of prayer and reflection to think about what I've done? And why, then do I need to burden myself with a fast and thoughts of the thin line between life and death on Yom Kippur—and then why do we spend even more time connecting with family and friends in a sukkah the next week?

There are many answers—just look at the Disney shop at the airport. It's because people forget. It's because we put off what we want to do. Because we spend time deciding whether or not something is worth it. Because we wait until the last possible minute for important things. Because it takes time to dig deeper into our souls and find what we want to remove, admit to it, and commit to becoming better people. Because of the sins that we have committed before You knowingly or unknowingly. (in your Silverman Machzor, page 343! Please rise!)

Our ancestors thought this time was necessary, and their world moved at a much slower pace than ours does. We would all do well to spend as much time thinking about how we can build better selves, better families, and better communities as we spend thinking about the consumer goods we buy. We can't maintain this intense focus all year, so it's worthwhile to commit to finding a meaningful connection to ourselves, to each other, and to the Eternal One during the days (and days) we've already set aside for exploring who we've become, and who we want to be.

Back in the Disney gift shop, you can buy a Jiminy Cricket, famous for his role as Peter Pan's conscience. I hoped for the same function in the Jiminy doll, but was sorely disappointed. Turns out, our conscience is found within ourselves, and in our interactions with others. As always, finding it is harder than it looks in the movies.

Shana Tovah u'Metukah—May you be blessed with a sweet New Year.

From your Co-Presidents

“It's a Go”

Well, it is hard to believe it is that time of year again. Summer is nearly over (what summer you might ask), and our thoughts now turn once again to getting the kids off to school, to planning for the upcoming High Holidays, to harvesting the fields (hold on... there is only one family of Jewish farmers in our community and unfortunately they don't belong to our shul.)

This year, however, is very special for another reason. This is the year that our "SHUL WITHIN THE SHUL" will become a reality. Wendy and I are proud to announce that the project is a go, and, subject to approval by the incoming board of governors, next year, by this time, our new home will be a reality.

Now this is not to say that our fundraising efforts are complete or that you can stop looking for my name on the call display. We need all of you now more than ever. If you have already stepped up and committed to the campaign, please take this opportunity, if you're able, to increase your donation. If one of our campaigners hasn't yet connected with you, please give us a call so that you can feel the excitement by participating in this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to build a shul.

You'll hear more from us over the next little while and, over the High Holidays, our final plans will be on display in the foyer.

On behalf of Wendy and I we wish each of you a happy and healthy new year - L'Shana Tovah.

And one further thing. On behalf of the board, the executive and all of the members of the Beth Jacob, we welcome Eyal and Michele to our community and the Beth Jacob.

And in case people are wondering... it is true – the Rabbi, Eyal and I do all go to the same barber.

Beth Jacob welcomes Eyal Bitton

Beth Jacob Synagogue is delighted to welcome our new Cantor/Educator Eyal Bitton and his wife, Michele Tredger, to our family.

Eyal brings 20 years of experience in synagogue music to his new role at Beth Jacob. As a child he sang in the choir at Montreal's Spanish and Portuguese Synagogue, and from the age of 18, when he was hired as that synagogue's choir director, was already arranging and composing music. In 2003, Eyal moved to Toronto when he was hired by Beth Tikvah Synagogue to replace the late Srul Irving Glick, as its musical director.

Beth Jacob members can expect to hear a mix of Ashkenazi and Sephardic traditional music and Eyal's own compositions in his prayers. His goal is to make the synagogue "a singing congregation." "I don't see my job as a performance", says Eyal. "What you'll see in services is creativity and innovation and what you will see in the school will be creativity and innovation." Eyal invites parents interested in enrolling their children in Beth Jacob's Hebrew school to contact him at 905-522-1351, ext 18. Visit Eyal's website at www.eyalbitton.com.

Eyal Bitton

Greetings from Eyal

As the new Cantor / Education Director here at Beth Jacob, I want to share with you a little about my approach.

When you walk into a Beth Jacob service, you will hear joy. You will hear a musical tradition spanning a millenium – reaching back to our rich heritage and pressing forward into the present and beyond. A typical Eyal Bitton service features a combination of traditional Ashkenazi melodies, Sephardic airs, and original compositions of my own. Expect tradition and innovation. Expect the transformation of Beth Jacob into a singing congregation. After all, I am not the performer; we are ALL performers and GOD is the audience! So when you come, sing along!

My approach to Beth Jacob She'arim Hebrew School and Enrichment Program is the same. We will seek new ways to explore our heritage and what it means to be Jewish in the modern world. The essential element to impart is a passion for our shared heritage.

I look forward to forging a wonderful relationship with my new community.

Soul, Body & Mind

The popular Sunday morning minyan, breakfast and lecture series returns to Beth Jacob in the Fall and Winter. Our series opens with Jacob Steinberg (October 25/09) talking about the oldest existing Jewish community in the Americas, the Jewish Community in Suriname. On November 29th, in honour of the 100th anniversary of the founding of Tel Aviv, Izzy Ferguson will recount his recent visit to the "White City" in search of its magnificent, modernist architectural gems. How and why did such a city evolve? What induced modernist architects to bring the revolutionary spirit of Europe's new town planning principles to the sand dunes of Tel Aviv? Join us for some answers. In the new year (January 24/2010) Cantor Eyal Bitton will enlighten and also entertain us when he discusses the challenges and opportunities in "Creating a musically inspiring, but not tiring, synagogue service." Please mark the dates on your calendar and plan to attend all our thought provoking talks. Watch the Beth Jacob website for further details.

TASHLICH

Tashlich, meaning "cast away," is a ritual performed on Rosh HaShanah as a physical reminder of the human effort to cast away one's sins. By casting crumbs of bread into the water - we state our intention to return to our true selves. For many Jews, Rosh Hashanah is a time for reciting many words. Through Tashlich, we use our bodies and actions to do the work of return. This year Tashlich will take place on Sunday, September 20. Please meet in the synagogue parking lot at 6:30 pm.

SUKKOT IS APPROACHING

This year the Sukkot Festival begins on Friday night, October 2. One of the most beautiful customs in our tradition is that of waving the Etrog and Lulav during Sukkot Services. Please call the shul at 905.522.1351 or speak to Philip Price to order.

COME HELP BUILD THE SUKKAH

Come spend an hour Sunday morning, Sept 27 at 10:00 am having breakfast after morning minyan, and then working it off by helping to build the Beth Jacob sukkah. Roll up your sleeves and bring your hammer, adjustable wrench and screw-driver. To offer your help please leave a message with Hanna at the Synagogue office at 905-522-1351 or email the office.

SUKKAH DECORATING & EARLY PIZZA DINNER

Now that the Sukkah's been built, it needs some pizzazz. On Wednesday, September 30 at 4:30 pm come and help us make creative and innovative decorations for the Sukkah and then reward yourself for all your labours with some delicious pizza! All ages welcome.

OPEN SUKKAH @ THE SELSBERGS

Join Rabbi and Karen Selsberg at their home at 19 Orchard Hill at 6:30 pm on Thursday, October 8 for a snack in their Sukkah, immediately following evening services.

THIS SIMCHAT TORAH, JOIN US AS BETH JACOB HONOURS MAUREEN PRICE, KALAT TORAH & IRA GREENSPOON, CHATAN BERESHIT

Maureen Price is this year's honouree for Kallat Torah, the honour of concluding the reading of the Torah. Maureen was born and grew up in Johannesburg, South Africa. After High School she attended the University of the Witwatersrand, where she obtained a Bachelor of Arts degree and then a Diploma in Library Science. Later she obtained a Master's in Library Science degree from the University of Wisconsin in Madison. It was at the University of the Witwatersrand that she first met Philip Price.

In 1966, Maureen and two other girl friends went on the traditional grand tour of Europe. By this time Philip was studying in Toronto but he joined up with the party in London and then persuaded Maureen to come to Canada. Maureen and Philip were married in 1967. They have raised three wonderful children, twin sons, David and Richard and a delightful daughter, Sara, and are now the proud grandparents of five terrific grandchildren.

In the early years of their marriage the Prices moved home five times. Without a family close at hand, Maureen built her social network by joining organizations and volunteering. Through Hadassah and the annual bazaars, Maureen established enduring friendships in Toronto. In Halifax and Madison Wisconsin she joined the "Mothers of Twins" clubs, which helped her keep her sanity and taught her that "double trouble" can also equal double the fun.

After Madison, came nine enjoyable years in Montreal. Here Sara was born, all three children went to school, and Philip earned a Master's in Library Science at McGill University. With the rest of the family busily studying, Maureen went back to work in the library at John Abbott College. When Philip was offered a great job in Hamilton the family packed up yet again. In Hamilton the Prices joined Beth Jacob and the synagogue and its members soon became an integral part of their lives. At Beth Jacob, Maureen has been involved in various volunteer functions. She ran the gift shop for many years, and together with Barry Walfish reorganized the synagogue library, established a Library Fund and instituted a series of Book Talks. These later morphed into the popular Soul Body and Mind Sunday morning series, which she now arranges.

Maureen has served on the Board at Beth Jacob synagogue on and off over the years; and during that time served on the House Committee, and briefly on the Education Committee as well as the Library Committee. For the past three years she has worked on the Book of Remembrance and the Seating Committee for the High Holy Days.

Maureen has also found time to volunteer outside of Beth Jacob. She served on the Home and School Committee at Westdale High School for the ten years her children attended school there. In 1994, she was awarded the Bernard M. Bloomfield medal for meritorious service to the Jewish National Fund in acknowledgement of her five years co-chairing the JNF annual telethon. Semi-retirement now gives Maureen more time to devote to her various interests and volunteer activities. She is a member of the Hamilton Genealogical Society, and a Book Club. Her other interests include visiting her family in Israel, her grandchildren in Cleveland and Toronto, gardening and opera. Maureen is thrilled and happy to accept the honour of Kallat Torah.

Ira Greenspoon is this year's honouree for Chatan Bereshit, the honour of beginning the reading of the Torah.

Ira grew up in Toronto. After high school he attended the University of Toronto where he received his Bachelor of Science degree with distinction. He then attended law school at Osgoode Hall Law School from 1978 to 1981. After his Call to the Bar in 1983 he spent a year with the Provincial government's Financial Institutions Branch before entering private practice and specializing in real estate and contracts law.

He met his wife Shelley (Pollock) at the engagement party of his brother Allen to Nancy Siegel. They were married by Rabbi Silverman in 1981. Ira and Shelley lived in Oakville for three years with Ira commuting to his law office in Toronto while Shelley travelled to her teaching job in Hamilton. They moved to Dundas exactly one week before their son Jay was born in August 1984. Their daughter Jill was born in 1987. Jay has just started his law career as an articling student for the law firm of Osler Hoskin and Harcourt in Toronto. Jill is starting her first year of medical School at University of Western Ontario.

As a lawyer who commutes to Toronto every day, Ira did not have much time to be involved with community events although he would perform magic and act as master of ceremonies for events at the JCC and he organized an annual hockey tournament for Jewish children of all ages from all over Southern Ontario. He also performed a yearly magic show during the Christmas season at the McMaster Children's Hospital for a number of years.

Ira first joined the Board of Governors of Beth Jacob during the last few years of Rabbi Silverman's tenure and helped co-ordinate the retirement dinner in honour of the Rabbi. It was during the time that Ira was saying Kaddish for his father in 2005, that he realized that he could make a difference in the Hamilton community by continuing to attend shul in the mornings and help ensure minyans so that those who wanted to say Kaddish would have the chance to do so. As Ira was now a regular at morning minyan, Matt Schmerling convinced him to become a Gabbai. And when the morning minyan required a shofar blower, he taught himself to blow the shofar to fill that need. He rejoined the Board of Governors in support of the efforts by John, Wendy and Mark to revitalize Beth Jacob.

Ira has been very instrumental in creating a social atmosphere at Beth Jacob. He has produced comedy events over the last 4 years as well as being the driving force behind the recent Cantorial Concert "Cantors Do Broadway" in an attempt to "fill our sanctuary with laughter and song". All of these events have been greatly enjoyed by the many who have attended as well as being successful fundraisers for the Shul.

Ira has found that his involvement at Beth Jacob has become very satisfying and meaningful to him "My involvement and commitment has allowed me to get to know a number of committed, unselfish and genuinely nice people who are involved with and attend Beth Jacob, whom I otherwise would never have come to know. I have made friendships and formed bonds that have become an important part of my life. As I sat in Shul one morning, I realized that the more time and energy I give to Beth Jacob the more I get from Beth Jacob."

Ira is honoured and delighted to accept the honour of Chatan Bereshit.

Out of the Cold

Because Jews once knew hunger and experienced what it was like to dwell as strangers on the margin of society, we are commanded to create a society in which the marginal are cared for and the hungry are provided with food.

Last season, our food and shelter program fed 2,611 dinner guests over 21 Tuesdays! That was an increase of thirty per cent from the prior year. You may be surprised and saddened to know that a number of our guests identify themselves as Jewish, even wearing kipot when we celebrate Hanukkah and Purim. Our over-night guests numbered 435 guests. At the start, when numbers were swelling, we were stretching food to be sure that everyone was well served. That may sound unappetizing, but we do have creative chefs who still received rounds of praise! This practice did not have to go on for long.

Due to very generous monetary donations and very important donations-in-kind from our congregation and friends in the community, we were as well provided for as our guests. Thank you to all who could give in whatever manner was possible. Such involvement creates immense satisfaction and fulfillment.

In April, three hundred OOTC volunteers gathered for an Appreciation Night dinner. Our own Philip Price won the raffle's grand prize, a bicycle which, in gracious gabbai fashion, he gifted to his grandson! (He's always giving ... bikes, kipot, siddurim, aliyot!)

As we prepare for another season, please consider dropping off toiletries (soap, shampoo, conditioner, toothpaste, toothbrushes, lotion) as well as clean socks and gloves and hats, (adult sizes) for our Bathtub Project in the lower foyer.

When we engage with others and provide life's essential needs to people who have little hope and less to eat, there's no end to the good and mitzvot which can and must be done. If you wish to volunteer, please contact Joanne Manishen, Volunteer Co-ordinator or Cindy Richter.

Beth Jacob Lottery

In the last 5 years the lottery has raised almost $100,000 for the benefit of the synagogue and its educational activities. We know that with your participation we can make this year's lottery even more successful than last year. Please mark your calendars: it will be held Thursday, October 29, 2009 at 7:00 pm.

The Beth Jacob Lottery is open to everyone. We encourage both men and women to attend. We will again have a number of door prizes. Krystyna working in conjunction with our food committee has enhanced last year's wonderful buffet dinner of brisket and chicken with the addition of some new menu items. There will again be an open bar, black jack tables and a wheel of fortune. A fun night will be enjoyed by everyone who attends. The price of tickets, $50.00 each, is the same as last year.

We again have sponsorship opportunities that include additional lottery tickets. We ask that our business and professional communities to be particularly generous by taking advantage of these sponsorship programs. A bronze category listing costs $150.00. It entitles you to 3 lottery tickets. A silver listing entitles one to 5 tickets and a gold listing to 10 tickets. For these or any other sponsorship programs or if you wish to sell tickets, please contact Larry Rosenberg (905-522-3816) or Harold Goldblatt (905-304-3660).

Tickets may be purchased from one of our ticket sellers or by phoning or e-mailing the synagogue office. Please note that tickets must be purchased and paid for before the actual draw in order to be eligible for the draw itself. Even if you are unable to attend the Beth Jacob Lottery, support your shul buy a couple of tickets. The key to success for any event like Lottery Night is participation. In order to make Thursday, October 29, 2009 successful, come out, bring a friend or two and sell some lottery tickets. Our synagogue needs our support.
